

Purple Day School Announcement

Good Morning!

Purple Day for epilepsy awareness will be held on Friday, March 25th. It started two years ago when a nine-year-old girl named Cassidy Megan wanted people to know that if you have epilepsy, you aren't alone. She also wanted people to know that there are many different kinds of seizures.

One in one hundred people has epilepsy. Most likely even students in our school! But having a medical condition isn't easy. Luckily, Purple Day has now become an international event and getting involved is simple.

On March 25th, wear purple to <<SCHOOL NAME>> and spread awareness about epilepsy. Get your friends and family involved too! To learn more, visit www.purpleday.org.

This script is designed for inclusion in school announcements. Please note: Purple Day takes place March 26th annually. Since March 26th falls on a Saturday in 2011, schools and businesses will be supporting the day on Friday, March 25th. Students are also welcome to get involved in community events on Saturday, March 26th.*
